G.O.RT.No. 253 Dated: 23-05-2018
Read:

From the Director, DES, Lr.No.7937/SED/2018, dt.03-05-2018.

ORDER:

Construction sector with a contribution of around 35%, is one of the major sectors in Industry identified with high growth potential and has significantly high multiplier effect on the State Economy. The sub-sectors of construction sector are household sector (75% Residential & Non residential buildings, other households and plantation category), public sector (7%) and residual part (18% private corporate and residual part of public sector). The GVA of other households and residual part are the major contributors in construction sector. Due to paucity of data at state level, the GVA numbers for major portion of construction sector has been provided by the Central Statistical Office (CSO), Government of India.

2. The consumption of Cement and steel is a pointer, identified to gauge the performance of the Construction activity. The All India GVA in construction is allocated to the states proportionately on the basis of consumption of steel, which is available only for 2010-11 at Cement Manufacturers Association (CMA) due to absence of regular data flow in the state.

3. After careful examination of the proposal, Government hereby constitute a committee under Chairmanship of the Secretary, Planning Department, with the following members to suggest the methodology for capturing data flow of production and consumption Cement and Steel on regular basis in the State.
